"Greater than all weaknesses, grace says, "I'll give you strength." (2 Corinthians 12:9)

Greater than all suffering, grace says, "I will restore you and make you steadfast." (1 Peter 5:10)

Greater than your own ignorant mind and straying feet, grace takes hold of your hand like the gentlest teacher, "Let me teach you how to say No to sin and Yes to self-control." (Titus 2:11,12)

Greater than the holiest laws of God, grace says, "You are saved, accepted, and purified, all and only for Jesus' sake." (Acts 15:8-11)

Greater than the noblest deeds you could ever do, grace is unearned, undeserved, unconditional—God out of the goodness of his heart, before you were even conceived in your mother's womb, before you could do good or bad, chose you to be his own. (Romans 9:11; 11:6)

Greater than the most grievous sins, because where sin increases, grace increases all the more. (Romans 5:11)

Greater than all the times you have been unfaithful to God, arousing his jealousy, befriending the world and turning your back on him—even then, "He gives us more grace." (James 4:6).

Greater than the grace you knew yesterday, Jesus piles up grace on top of grace. (John 1:16)

Greater than whatever would silence you, grace says, "Here is power to testify to the world." (Acts 4:33)

He is so rich in grace, there is nothing the human mind can even compare to the richness of his grace. (Ephesians 2:7).

Prayer:

Where would I be without your grace, dear Lord? I praise you for that divine heart of yours, overflowing with the desire to be kind and good toward me—simply because you love to bless and help. Please don't ever stop. For Jesus' sake, Amen.
